The Topeka Journal says that Captain Henry Bradley, the secretary of the Republican state central committee, does all his writing, amounting to from fifty to one hundred letters per day, with that instrument of antiquity the goose quill.

The recent disbursements of gold by the treasury, coupled with the imports of that metal, are telling on the bank reserves in New York. They increased $713,650 in the week ended Saturday, which brings the surplus held in excess of the 25 per cent. required to secure deposits up to $7,634,063.

What's the matter with George William Curtis, editor of Harper's Weekly? Here's his journal of civilization in one column commenting on Mr. Blaine's Schlegel speech as "clear, strong and effective," and in another describing Mr. Bayard's Mexican policy as "cowboy diplomacy and poppy-cock bravado."

Miss Amelia Jackson, daughter of Captain Jackson who shot Colonel Ellsworth at the Marshall house in Alexandria, Va., for pulling down the confederate flag in 1861, has been appointed to a position in the patent office. It will be remembered that Miss Jackson's father fell at the same time, shot by a member of Colonel Ellsworth's regiment.

The Forum is a new magazine somewhat on the Review order, which was started a few months ago, comes to us regularly. It is much on the style of the North American Review, but is already far ahead of it in freshness and vigor. It contains able papers discussing public affairs, political, religious, social, financial, educational, and many other classes of subjects, by the most eminent writers in America. The price is $5.

Boom or no boom there is no use denying the fact that hundreds of new people have settled in El Dorado within the past few months. El Dorado has grown this year more than it has ever grown before, and the people coming to us are usually well to do and enterprising. At the present rate we will reach ten thousand in two or three years.—El Dorado Republican.

Maybe you begin to believe what the Eagle told your people two or three years ago, which was in effect that El Dorado being almost free of rivalries and the seat of government for a county half as big as a New England state, that it was inevitable, with her delightful location, that she should become a very prosperous city.

The Globe-Democrat publishes tabulated statements of the presidential preferences of the delegates to the Republican state convention of Ohio, Iowa, Texas, Michigan, Illinois, Missouri, Indiana and Wisconsin. Blaine was the choice of more than half of the delegates who expressed any preferences. His strength exceeded by thirty-one that of Logan, Sherman and Allison combined. He led in every state except Ohio, Iowa and Illinois, each of which has a prominent presidential aspirant among its own citizens. And in all the states mentioned he led as second choice, except in Indiana, which preferred Harrison.

Here is something from the Lawrence Journal that a few anti-papers in the east might publish as an amende honorable if they would: "Kansas has prohibition, and it is the most vigorous and prosperous state in the union. There are, we believe, but two cities in the state that have that relic of barbarism—the open saloon, and they are Leavenworth and Dodge City. In Leavenworth there are 225 saloons, but only recently they had to dispense with their electric light. Their street cars have been attached for debt, and it is presumed they will be abandoned, and as for content, unity, and happiness, Leavenworth is always in a row. Topeka, Lawrence, Ft. Scott, Parsons, Wichita, Winfield and all the live and vigorous cities in the state are without saloons, and have prohibition. While we do not contend that prohibition alone will build up a great state and prosperous cities, we do maintain that saloons do not build up stable communities and thriving cities. Kansas offers abundant proof on this point.

THE DEMOCRATS TOMORROW.

The Democratic slate for to-morrow is already arranged and the convention will be called only for the purpose of confirming the action of the slate makers. The intention is to make a fight on one or two of the Republican candidates and to trade off the rest of the ticket in order to help the favorites. The candidates on whom they intend to unite their strength are now actively at work begging Republicans to support them and threatening Democrats with their vengeance who express themselves as dissatisfied with an arrangement to go back on their friends in order to help out the Democratic ring. Whenever some disgruntled Republican gives them some hope these modest gentlemen, with a strict regard for the truth, tell that there has just been ten or fifteen Republicans to see them who had offered to support them. Now we can count all the kickers on the present Republican ticket on the fingers of one hand, and some of these have had the distemper for a year or two and scarce have enough influence to control their own vote. There has not been a Republican ticket for years that received so large a vote in the convention as the present one, and there is no question but that each candidate will be elected by a handsome majority.

RIVAL CITIES.

The fact is, Hutchinson is getting to be a very dangerous rival of Wichita.—Topeka Commonwealth.
Yes, the prairies are full of rivals of Wichita, notwithstanding which fact if Topeka can get rates over the Santa Fe Wichita will supply the capital city with every line of goods demanded in that city at lower prices than her merchants are paying today. As the Commonwealth no doubt appreciates the rivals of Wichita we will say right now that as soon as the Chicago and Rock Island is completed from Topeka to this point we will agree to supply the Commonwealth with white paper delivered at Topeka seven per cent cheaper than it is now paying. If, however, Hutchinson is the rival of Wichita that the Commonwealth seems to think, Hutchinson dealers may be able to make better figures than the ones offered by us.

THE MISSOURI PACIFIC TO BE EXTENDED TO THE ROCKY MOUNTAINS.

From the Chicago Tribune.
It is learned from reliable authority that Jay Gould has virtually decided upon the construction of an extension of the Missouri Pacific from Wichita to the Rocky mountains and Denver. Surveyors are said to be now in the field locating the new line. The terminus has not yet been decided upon, but will either be Pueblo or some point further south on the Canadian river, and at either one or the other point connection is to be made with the Denver and New Orleans railroad. The latter road is now constructed and in operation between Denver and Pueblo, and surveys have been made for extending it south from Pueblo to the Canadian river. Mr. Gould, it is claimed, now owns about $300,000 in the Denver and New Orleans and is negotiating for a controlling interest in that road. This movement on the part of Mr. Gould is said to be due to the construction by the Rock Island of a new line from St. Joseph, Mo., southwest to Wichita, going through some of the most important territory now covered by the Missouri Pacific's Kansas system. It is understood that the Rock Island contemplates the extension of its new southwestern line as soon as it reaches Wichita, and it is said to be Mr. Gould's intention to head off the Rock Island and reach the Rocky mountains first. The construction of the new extension of the Missouri Pacific is to be commenced in a few weeks, and preparations are said to have been made to lay about three miles of track each day.

SOME QUEER STATEMENTS.

In an interview recently published in the Boston Globe, the authenticity of which is not questioned, Neal Dow says:

Our quarrel with the Republican party does not all grow out of what it has done or is supposed to have done for prohibition in the past, but it originates entirely in what it does and refuses to do now. For the last twenty-five years no progress whatever has been made in the extinguishing of the liquor traffic in Maine. The volume of it now in the state is as large as it was then. This arises partly from the fact that the Republican party officials ignore the law, and more from the fact that the law in some respect is defective, so that without substantial amendments to the entire suppression of the traffic is impossible. Republican officials continue now, as they have done in the past to ignore the law, and the Republican legislatures have uniformly persisted in refusing any effective legislation to accomplish the work which it is the sole purpose of the law to do; that is, to suppress the liquor traffic.

We have here Mr. Dow's positive assertion that there has been no progress whatever in the work of extinguishing the liquor traffic in Maine for a quarter of a century, and Republican officials continue "as they have done in the past," to ignore the law. Now, let us see what Mr. Dow said on this subject ten months ago, to-wit, on the 5th of November, 1885. Here it is:

The main law is as well executed as any other of our statutes, and its effect for good upon our moral and material interests is so great that it cannot be measured by any mode of computation now known to us.

If Mr. Dow spoke the truth ten months ago he is not doing so now, and vice versa, for the two statements are most emphatically contradictory. But this is not all the testimony that has been introduced in the case of Dow vs. Dow. No longer ago than the month of last June Mr. Dow wrote to the English Temperance Alliance:

The Maine law, administered by the Republican party, has driven every distillery and brewery from the state, has stopped nineteen-twentieths of the liquor traffic, and has added $10,000,000 annually to the wealth of the state.

Which of these Dow shall one believe—the Republican Dow of ten months ago and three months ago, or the deputy Democratic Dow of this date? The reader pays his money and may take his choice.

The Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railway company expects to be setting the grade stakes of their new line of road between Peabody and Wichita this week. We trust the line will run through Fairmont, Milton and Muncie townships, this county.—El Dorado Republican.

Written for the Eagle.

WICHITA.

Knowest thou the city the wisemen are seeking?
Whose greatness and praise all people are speaking?
Whose star in the west with beauty doth glow,
Whispering comfort and hope to the hearts burdened with woe?
A city whose charms doth our warmest love draw—
Thy our beautiful, our own, our beloved Wichita.

It is not for her beauty, tho' of that she may boast,
It is not her great size that charms us the most;
There is a buoyant stir in her glad some air,
A joyous bustle everywhere,
And from the hills of the east to the mouth of the Kaw,
The same query is heard, "Have you seen Wichita?"

We do not wonder her fame is so great,
That her praises are heard in every state;
Each day she is growing in numbers and power,
She is the pride of the west, our fair prairie flower,
And her bright winsome charms doth many souls draw
To seek an abode in fair Wichita.

Wichita, Wichita; thy name thrills on the tongue,
Through many glad years shall thy praises be sung;
Amid broad fertile acres thou sittest a queen,
O'er canopied with blue, with a throne of bright green,
And thousands will bless the hour they first saw
Thy far-reaching spires, oh beloved Wichita.

MAINE HAS SPOKEN.

From the Kansas Chief.
The Maine election, which occurred on Monday, would not necessarily be of great importance, as it is a small state, and gives a steady Republican majority. But this state of James G. Blaine's residence, and his enemies, both in and out of the Republican party, had determined that it was the turning point of his fate—all confidently expecting a Republican reverse. On the other hand it was conceded that if the Republicans won, it would insure his nomination for the next presidency. He personally made a canvass of the state. Everything was arrayed against the Republican party. The Democrats were never more active; the Knights of Labor, contrary to their laws and pretensions, entered the fight, and opposed the Republicans; while the third-party prohibitionists made superhuman efforts to swamp the Republican party, and help the Democrats to victory. Not only did the superannuated crank, Neal Dow, work as he never worked before, but the Kansas pisan, St. John, added his tremendous services—at $50 a speech. The Democratic papers heaped the fact that St. John was going to beat Blaine in his den, and they published all his little screeches, with a grand hurrah that the little insect was literally roasting Blaine alive.

The election came off Monday, and the result is an overwhelming Republican triumph over everything combined. They have the largest majority given for years, except in presidential years, and on a light vote, too. The prohibition vote is simply insignificant compared with the bonstings beforehand. The combination has secured a few members of the legislature and a few county officers—that is all. The Republicans elected their governor, their four members of congress, all but three state senators, and more than two-thirds of the house, insuring them a United States senator.

ASPHALT PAVEMENTS.

Pittsburg Dispatch.
A rather interesting and important discussion as to the value of different paving materials has arisen in the east, with the result of making a very good showing for the asphalt pavement. General Meigs, of Washington, has written a letter stating the present cost of asphalt pavement at $1.85 per square yard, and granite block at $1.75. The cost of repairs in that city averages 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 cents per square annually on the asphalt pavement, which, considering the superior cleanliness, smoothness, saving of wear and tear on vehicles, and freedom from noise, makes it, he claims, the asphalt pavement the most economical in the end. In addition to this the idea that asphalt will not stand heavy traffic is combated by Mr. Fernie, a London civil engineer, who says that Champs-Élysées, which is conceded to have the heaviest traffic of any street in the world, has now been paved with asphalt for ten years and during that time has never been closed a day for repairs. It has, he affirms, the experience of London and Paris that asphalt will stand more wear than either granite or iron.
